Should we all plant?
We should plant, all.
All plant, should we?
Plant all we should.

Read the above carefully. Read forward; then begin at last word and read backwards; then read up and down the columns. It reads the same all ways.
So much time has been lost by bad weather that we suggest you to follow the above advice, which is true, any way you twist the words.

CLEARING WAY FOR DEED

Effect of Supreme Court Decision in Thames Loan and Trust Case, Says Receiver Thayer—Will Get to Work at Once on Readjustment of Accounts to Conform to Court's Decision.

Receiver Charles F. Thayer of the Thames Loan and Trust company, which was asked Wednesday evening what would be the next action to be taken in the affairs of the trust company, following the decision given Wednesday by the supreme court upon the application for advice.

Thayer said that as soon as he had had a chance to study out the full import of the decision and thoroughly understand it, he should proceed to carry out the plan explained that it would now be in order for the superior court to draw a judgment file in the matter along the lines given in the decision by the supreme court, and this would be his guide in conducting the affairs of the receivership of the trust company.

There were 52 questions upon which advice was asked in the application to the superior court. The supreme court had not passed upon every question, but upon all upon which they had passed their decision was final. The decision makes quite a bit of work to be done in arranging the numerous accounts affected to conform to the advice of the court, and the receiver proposes to begin at once on this task.

Receiver Thayer said that there appeared now to be no obstacle to declaring a dividend within a short time, as soon as the accounts could be adjusted, but he could not say how soon that might be.

Asked as to what effect the decision would have upon the savings department of the bank, he said that the figures indicated that there would be some shortage in this department.

NEW BOOKS
Harvey's Essentials of Arithmetic. By L. D. Harvey, Ed. D., President of Stout Institute, Manomone, Wisconsin. Cloth, 12 mo. American Book Company, New York, Cincinnati and Chicago. First Book, For 2nd, 3rd, and 4th years, 224 pages. Price 35 cents. Second Book, For 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th years, 507 pages. Price 50 cents.

This new series, by one of the leading American educational authorities, correlates the work in arithmetic with agriculture, commerce, manual training and the household arts. The books are confined to the practical and the useful, and provide many applications of numbers to problems of a pre-vocational character. They teach the pupil to be accurate and quick in handling numbers and in interpretation and analysis problems correctly. Among the noteworthy features of the series are the careful gradation, the frequent, cumulative, and thorough reviews; the many useful suggestions to teachers; the frequent drills, the insistence on checking methods; the Study Recitation; the problems to be made by the pupils (See also "The Study Recitation" without numbers).
